PLATINUM SERIES PLANKS

Manufactured to resemble traditional decks without adhering to the surface. Creates the perfect aesthetic solution for multi unit residential balconies and outdoor common areas. Specifically intended to lay directly upon flat, solid surfaces with proper drainage such as condo balconies. Will follow the contours of the surface laid upon and accommodation for expansion and contraction in severe environmental conditions must be provided. Weathered wood grain to complement any decor.

TOP (LINEALS)

Coextruded bamboo plastic composite (BPC) on the inside encased in a plastic shell on all four sides. The encasing is easy to clean, scratch & stain resistant, and protects the inner core from all elements. The cap/shield and core are extruded together through an extreme high temperature mold simultaneously. This means there are no adhesives or chemicals that could be environmentally harmful.

BOTTOM (BASE)

After extrusion, the lineals are mounted on a polypropylene base creating the 'floating floor ideal for CONDOS. The in-built interlocking tabs on all four sides keeps the flooring in place. No glue, grout or nails required for installation. The open profile allows for 100% air circulation. Water and small debris fall through and wash away underneath.
